

Abstract

In the master thesis is the approximation properties of Abel-Poisson means of conjugate trigonometric series are studied in case of one and several variables for some classes from the space of Lebesgue integrable functions.